6. April 2025, 15.00–16.30 Uhr

Artefacts from the Kingdom of Benin are highly contested. What are the implications of acknowledging violence, collective trauma, grief, and discontent as remnants of a colonial past? How can we foster trust and establish new relationships that are grounded in dignity and respect? In our discussion, we explore the transformative possibilities, which arise from recognition, dialogue, and collaboration.

With anthropologist Zainabu Jallo and Solange Mbanefo, co-curator and designer of the exhibition “In Dialogue with Benin” at Museum Rietberg
